

Highlights

- A forecast-decomposable framework makes time, frequency, and mixer parts removable
- Zero-initialized corrections make the initial forecast an interpretable linear map
- 83 seed-paired ablations with Benjamini-Hochberg control separate signal from noise
- Time branch is confirmed on ETTm data; frequency branch only on Solar at H=96
- Channel-correlation (PCC) analysis grounds per-dataset cross-variate mixing